The Wife.

Only let a woman be sure that she is precious to her husband—not useful, not valuable, not convenient, simply, but lovely and beloved; let her be the recipient of his polite, hearty attentions; let her feel that her care and love are noticed, appreciated and returned; let her opinion be asked, her approval be sought, and her judgment respected in matters in which she is cognizant; in short, let her only be loved, honored and cherished, in fulfillment of the marriage vow, and she will be to her husband, and her children and society, a well-spring of pleasure. She will bear pain, and toil, and anxiety, for her husband's love is, to her, a tower and fortress. Shielded and sheltered therein, adversity will have lost its sting. She may suffer, but sympathy will dull the edge of sorrow.

A house with love in it—and by love I mean love expressed in words, and looks, and deeds, for I have not one spark of faith in love that never crops out—is to a house without love as a person to a machine; one is life, the other is mechanism. The unloved woman may have bread just as light, and a house just as tidy as the other; but the latter has a spring of beauty about her, a joyousness, an aggressive and penetrating and pervading brightness to which the former is a stranger. The deep happiness in her heart shines out in her face. She is a ray of sunlight in the house. She gleams over it. It is airy, and gay, and graceful, and warm, and welcoming with her presence; she is full of devices and plots, and sweet surprises for her husband and family; she has never done with the romance of life; she, herself, is a lyric poem, setting herself to all pure and gracious melodies. Humble household ways and duties have for her a golden significance. The prize makes the calling high, and the end sanctifies the means. "Love is heaven, and heaven is love."

ADVICE TO YOUNG LADIES.—Trust not to uncertain riches, but prepare yourself for any emergency. Learn to work, and not be dependent upon servants to make your bread, sweep your floors, darn your stockings. Above all this, do not esteem too lightly those honorable men who sustain themselves and their parents by the work of their own hands, while you care for, and receive into your company, those lazy, idle popinjays, who never lift a finger to help themselves, so long as they can keep body and soul together, and get sufficient to live in fashion.

Young women, remember this, and instead of sounding the purses of your lovers, and examining the cut of their coats, look into their hearts and habits. Mark if they have trades, and can depend upon themselves; see if they have minds which will lead them to look above a butterfly existence. Talk not of the beautiful white skin, and the soft, delicate hands—the fine appearance of the young gentleman. Let not those foolish considerations engross your thoughts.

Good Advice to Masons.

1. To live more punctiliously faithful to Masonic principles and teachings, practicing strictly all the moral duties, and being more devoted to charity;

2. To check the introduction into the Order of the immoral, the curious, the ignorant, and the selfish;

3. To cease festivals, and processions, and shows, whereby there are attracted to us the superficial and the unsteady;

4. To encourage Masonic literature, whereby all our brethren may be enlightened and strengthened, the day having passed when ignorance can any more assist Masonry than devotion;

5. To lay aside our showy regalia and employ only the simple white apron, the "badge of a Mason"; to reduce our titles and degrees to the simpler and older formula; to forbid presents to officers, whereby corruption and favoritism are engendered; to prohibit all electioneering for office; and especially to become a secret society, doing good to all, without ostentation.—National Freemason.

THE VALLEY OF VIRGINIA.—What North Carolina soldier, of General Lee's army, is there, who has not kindly and pleasant recollections of the Shenandoah Valley? Where did they meet with readier sympathy, where, when suffering, did they get more affectionate nursing, or who furnished them with bigger loaves of bread, when hungry, than the good people of this goodly valley, from Staunton to the Potomac? Our soldiers have not forgotten these things, and we know they will hear with pleasure that this beautiful country is fast recovering from the sad effects of Hunter's ruthless and wicked invasion and desolation.

On their behalf, and our own, we wish the valley a full and speedy return of its former prosperity.—Weldon State.

A Western editor tells the world that he has Abraham Lincoln's razor and 10,000 people have looked at it. Now for Dostie's razor.

The Republicans laugh so much at the Philadelphia Convention that they threaten to split.—Boston Post.

BATTLE'S DIGEST.

The Digest of all the reported law cases in North Carolina, from the earliest period to the present year, is now nearly ready for the binder. It will consist of about 1200 pages, including the table of cases, &c. The book has been so arranged that it can be bound in one volume, or in two, according to the preference of the purchaser.

The cost of publication has been greater than was expected, in consequence of the book being larger, and it is ascertained that the author cannot afford to charge less than $15 for the volume or volumes of the Law, and $10 for the Equity volume to be paid on or before the delivery of the volumes respectively. The work, though containing much more matter, will cost but little more in currency, than was formerly charged in gold or its equivalent for the aggregate of Iredell's and Jones's Digest.

When a purchaser wants an interleaved copy, he will so state in his order for the work. There will be an additional price of one dollar for such copy.

We have consented to act as agents for Judge Battle in the sale of the Digest, and now solicit immediate orders, accompanied with directions as to how the book shall be bound, &c.

The printing of the Equity volume will be commenced without delay.

PROSPECTUS.

This company owns by warranty title nearly fourteen thousand acres of mineral lands, situated in the counties of Chatham, Moore, Rockingham and Stokes, on the waters of Deep and Dan Rivers, in North Carolina, which abound in plentiful deposits of coal, copper, iron, salt, and, there is every reason to believe from general and surface indications, petroleum or coal oil.

The services of two practical and efficient men, experienced in boring for oil, and stimulated by a long course of success in Venango county, Pennsylvania, were secured by the company several months since and they are now on the lands, with the requisite force, tools, steam engine and machinery, boring a well with very flattering prospects of success. The organization of this company effected some time since has now been perfected in legal form, by act of incorporation, with a capital of $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of $5 each.

By reference to the valuable and laborious reports of Prof. Emmons, State Geologist, and Commodore Wilkes, U. S. Navy, every one interested will be enabled to judge of the value of the large area of territory secured by the North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Co.

It is well known that a superior article of bituminous coal is now being mined in the Deep river coal region, where a portion of the lands are situated, and this company owns property known to be equal if not superior to any on which shafts have been sunk. Copper, iron and salt also abound, and the attention of capitalists has already been directed to this section on account of its value for the above minerals.

Below are given a few extracts from the journals showing that there is no good reason why there should not be as large quantities of oil in the "Old North State" as in other States.

Oil has been struck in Overton county, Tennessee, on the north line of that State, about midway from its eastern border, eighteen miles from the Cumberland mountains.—Christian (Richmond) Observer.

OIL WELLS IN WEST VIRGINIA.—The Parkersburg Times gives an astonishing statement of the yield of wells in the region thereabout, consisting of Wood, Wirt, Ritchie and other counties, viz: Burning Springs, 2,500 barrels per day; White Oak, 1,500; Lick Run, 300; Horse Neck, 150; and of the several wells on Hughes river, 6,000 barrels per day. The quality is said to be remarkably fine. The Times considers the oil of West Virginia the best yet discovered.

THE OIL EXCITEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—The oil excitement in Clark county is still high. Some eight or ten derricks are up and at work. The deepest well is only 325 feet, with a fair yield of oil. Some of the other wells have struck oil and gas at from 70 to 100 feet.—Much time and money will be spent this summer in the thorough development of the oil resources of Clark county. Men of capital and experience seem confident that oil will be found in large quantities, and are willing to test their faith by a free expenditure in developing the lands. The first company who bored on the land of Hon. T. R. Young, are now engaged in trying to raise the auger which was lost last fall. The Eastern Illinois Company will begin work in a few days twelve miles southwest of the first well. The prospect in that locality is good.—Chicago Tribune.

It is known that after a few months boring in the vicinity of Lynchburg, a large vein of oil was struck and a productive well is now in successful operation. This is on the same line with, and about 80 miles from, the company's first well on Dan River, where the indications both general and particular are similar.

In order to have sufficient means to develop this valuable property in such a manner as to insure success, the Directors have authorized 10,000 shares of the capital stock to be sold to raise a working capital, and subscriptions for that number or any part thereof will be received.

An uncommonly favorable opportunity for investment is thus afforded, as those who choose to buy stock under this offer will have the advantage of an equal footing with the original corporators in an enterprise which, after the example of the immense profits realized in those of a similar character in other States, though in many respects on less favorable conditions than this, (compare the extent, cheapness and fee simple title of the basis of operations here offered) gives reasonable assurance of the most lucrative results. In many instances in sections of less favorable oil localities, shares have advanced in a few days from $2 or $5 to $20 and even $50, and poor men who made small investments realized fortunes.

Further information may be had at the office of the company, one door north of the Court House, Greensboro, N. C., where books of subscription are now open.

By order of the Directors.
A. G. BRENIZER, Secretary.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. Editors.

Friday Evening, Aug. 17, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR.

JONATHAN WORTH,

OF RANDOLPH.

The Great National Union Convention.

The great Convention at Philadelphia adjourned on last evening. A more imposing body, in point of intelligence, public virtue or numbers, has never assembled in this country. From the first inception of the Convention, though not entirely sanguine, we have been hopeful, of its success. It is a success, and its influence will be felt powerfully in the coming elections and in the future of the Republic.

The programme contained in the call of the Convention was not what we, as purely South ern men, would have warmly embraced or endorsed. There was something very repugnant, even in that, to our Southern pride and feelings, but, as National Union men, our judgment gave it its sanction, as wise, conservative and politic. There were a thousand pros. and cons. growing out of the discussions in reference to the Convention, which, as purely Southern men, excited our fears, but, as National Union men, its grand design met our unqualified approbation.

So with the Convention in its doings and acts. As purely Southern men, the introductory scene, in which the Massachusetts and South Carolina delegates were the actors, afforded room for doubt, hesitancy, nay chagrin, but, as National Union men, we rejoice at the waiving of a straw which brings the North and South in closer accord and harmony. Nor can we regard the remarks we have seen in some of our Southern cotemporaries, ridiculing that scene, as judicious or generous. As purely Southern men, we looked upon the spirit evinced to keep Vallandigham, and Wood, and others, out of the Convention, as anything else but kind or magnanimous, but, as National Union men, we concede it to have been judicious, politic and conservative to have opposed their admission; and their noble and magnanimous declinature is above all praise.

Equally so, there are planks in the platform of the Convention, and expressions in the address, which, as purely Southern men, are grating and distasteful to us, but, as National Union men, we can stand upon that platform and endorse the address, as the great lever of political revolution in the Republic, to the end of effecting the restoration of the government, the Union and the Constitution, to their original status.—And like our noble President, we feel it will be done. We have an abiding faith in the principles of the fathers of the Republic and in the triumph of truth, law and order, over fanaticism, misrule and despotism. The restoration of the old Union under the Constitution, as it is, we regard as so essential to American liberty, the peace and prosperity of the nation, that we are ready to make any sacrifice, which does not compromise our liberty and our sacred honor, to obtain it.

But, people of North Carolina! such a Union as the Radicals commend to our lips, such a Union as W. W. Holden and his supporters commend to us, such a Union as Daniel R. Goodloe and his "Southern loyalists" commend to us, stinks in the nostrils of every true American It would be more poisonous, more destructive to American liberty, than the blighting effluvia of the bohon-upas is to animal life.

Let the people of the South merge their preferences, hopes and wishes, in the one great object of restoring the Constitutional liberty, peace and prosperity of the whole nation.—Burdensome and humiliating, and destructive to our material wealth, as the conditions of Union have been and may be, let us still cling to American liberty, to the Constitution and Union of the States, the government of our fathers, as the last plank which still keeps afloat the blessings of constitutional freedom, though all things else be drowned in the waters of strife and political convulsion.

The Proposed Convention of Southern Unionists, So-Called.

A friend, residing in this county, has laid upon our table an address issued by the Committee of Southern Radicals, who propose to hold a Convention in Philadelphia, in September, and which he received under the frank of Wm. B. Stokes, of Tennessee. The address is signed by that worthy, Hamilton, of Texas, and one Saffold, of Alabama, who is probably as much a citizen of that State as the mysterious "Byron Laflin" is a citizen of North Carolina.

We have never seen a more revolutionary, incendiary and disgusting document. It abounds in the most dangerous and fanatical appeals, in doctrines utterly subversive of all good government, in bitter assaults upon the President, in the most shameless perversions of truth, and in the most libellous reflections upon the masses of our people. It favors universal negro suffrage, while it proposes to disfranchise that large class of whites, of whom, it may be safely said, that they combine nearly all the intelligence and respectability of the South. Falsely, wickedly and maliciously charging upon a portion of our people a deliberate "conspiracy again to overthrow the government," it advocates the violent up-rooting of all the Southern State governments and the destruction of every principle of constitutional liberty. In fewer words, it is as vindictive, mendacious and cowardly an emanation as was ever conceived by bad men in any age.

We do not know that we need trouble ourselves to notice this matter further. There will be no delegates from North Carolina in that Convention. Those who signed their names to the call, and who assume, without the shadow of warrant, to represent North Carolina, may be there, but no body else. Untrue to the people and hostile to the cause of peace and reconciliation as a few men in our midst are, we are not prepared to think so badly of them as to suppose that they will sanction this infamous address.

Agrarianism.

The demoralization of the times is in every one's mouth. What is said, in this regard, of the people, is true, to a great extent, of the representatives of the people, and those who seek to be. We have heard of many ridiculous and demoralizing propositions, as a remedy for the evils of the war and the times, but the following exceeds any, short of highway robbery, and is more exquisitely demagogical than any thing we have seen or heard from any quarter. We find it in a card in the Hillsboro' Recorder, addressed to the people of Orange County by a Mr. James F. Craige, who announces himself as a candidates for the Senate in the next General Assembly. It is as follows:

"Fellow Citizens, I am opposed to the Ratification of the Constitution. But there is a measure I am in favor of, viz: To confiscate all the property over twenty thousand dollars that a person may be possessed of; the proceeds to be applied to the use of maimed soldiers, and orphan children of Confederate dead. That the former, who have done so much for their country, may not be found begging bread; and that the latter may be educated and trained up for the honorable avocations of life."

The man who possesses an amount of intelligence sufficiently large to originate and propose such a measure, and who seriously believes that the Legislature of North Carolina, or any other power in the State, or any where else, except that which might or brute force gives, would adopt it, may be set down as most richly deserving such a position as "Senator from Orange," if the people of that honest old County should send him. We believe that the maimed and diseased soldiers of the late war are entitled to the warmest and kindest sympathies of the people, but every one of them would rise up in arms against such a piece of wholesale robbery as that. Mr. C., perhaps, is ready to say to every voter, "Vote yourself a farm." If he be in earnest, he will of course go for universal negro suffrage.

We feel the strong moral obligation, resting upon all true Southern men, to provide, as far as their ability will allow, for the support and comfort of our unfortunate but brave men who have been disabled or diseased, and the widows and orphans of our soldiers. Every one should labor to promote their welfare, seek for them positions of usefulness, encourage the education of their children and in every possible way to relieve and comfort them. We would be willing to be taxed to help them, if it were the better way; but to talk of confiscating every man's property who may chance to have over $20,000, for their benefit, is not only unjust to property holders, but would make our soldiers and their children the objects of hatred and ill-feeling, who ought to be the objects of love and affection.

Let associations be formed every where in the South, looking to the material, moral and educational benefit of our brave soldiers who survive, and their widows and children, but let us not do evil, do a great moral wrong, that good may come.

Gen. Jno. M. Palmer.

We find in the Northern Radical papers the following statement from a Washington correspondent:

"Major General John M. Palmer, who has been at Raleigh, N. C., the past two months, as President of the Whittlesey court-martial, arrived here to-day, and his resignation, which was tendered in February, he pressed the War Department to accept, which was done this afternoon. The General reports the state of affairs in the South as perfectly hopeless for Union men. For fear of personal violence, those who would visit him came at night, urging secresy on his part as to their conference. The reconstructed openly and defiantly insult Union officers in the streets, and their treatment towards Unionists and freedmen is pitiable in the extreme."

We do not believe that Gen. Palmer authorized one word of the above statement. While here, he was received and respected by a number of our best citizens, as a gentleman and a man of honor, and no gentleman would give currency to statements so unfounded and vicious. He was understood, while here, to be a decided Republican, but not a Radical. He conversed freely and unreservedly with gentlemen, with whom we have conversed, from whom he could have learned, and did learn, the true state of things among us, and we know that from them he could have received no such false and wicked information as prompted the above. He boarded in a highly respectable private family, all of whom, young and old, warmly and honestly sympathised with the Southern cause, and we are quite sure that no craven hearted, timorous, so-called "Union men" would have ventured to have gone to that dwelling, night or day, clandestinely, to seek an interview with Gen. Palmer. Such people, if there be any among us, do not go to the residences of such families as the one where Gen. Palmer boarded. If any person, white or black, reported to him, that they were in danger of personal violence for their Union sentiments, they reported what they knew to be false, and what Gen. Palmer could have easily satisfied himself was false.

No instance has come to our knowledge, in which a Federal officer, or soldier, who conducts himself as a gentleman, has been insulted here by any one. Some few instances may have occurred, in which men, connected with the army, presuming too much upon their position and ours—forgetting that, though beaten in the war, our people, male nor female, are not pol. troons,—have ventured too far, and have "caught a Tartar;" but whenever men have conducted themselves with propriety, as officers or gentlemen, we know of no instance of insult offered to them by our people. One thing is certain, that no one has suffered among us either for their Union principles or because they were connected with the Federal army. Men badly raised, or of bad temper, who have presumed to tread on the toes of our people, because they claimed to be our conquerors, have met with no flattering reception, but have been rebuked as they deserved. But since the day that Sherman entered this city, down to the present time, we have heard of but two men filling important positions here, of whom we have heard nothing good, but much of evil. No one, we believe, not excepting members of the Federal army itself, has spoken well of them.

THE GREAT NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Details of First Day's Proceedings.

We wish to give the readers of the Sentinel a complete account of the doings of the National Convention in Philadelphia, and commence, this evening, with a report of the first day's proceedings, &c., which we take from the correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch:

PHILADELPHIA, August 14, 1866.

The Philadelphia Union Conservative Convention assembled to-day in the great wigwam. It was one of the most imposing assemblages of men I ever saw, as well for its numbers as the appearance of respectability which characterized it. What is better, it was earnest and patriotic—nay, enthusiastic. I am more than borne out in my prediction to that effect by the harmony and unanimity which prevailed, and by the kind and fraternal demonstration of feeling towards the South. Listening to the speech of General Dix, the auditor was deeply impressed with the singleness of purpose which actuates the northern portion of the delegates. The main object, that which carries all others along with it, appeared to be to restore to the Southern States their equality in the Union.—Whenever the speaker uttered a sentence announcing this object of the Convention, cheers long and loud rent the air. There was a heartiness in these demonstrations that dispelled all doubt and incredulity as to the deep-seated and strong determination on the part of the Convention to exert all the power and influence at its command to defeat the Radicals and re-establish republican government according to the Constitution.

THE ORGANIZATION,—A SCENE: MASSACHUSETTS AND SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Convention met at the great wigwam at 12 o'clock, the assemblage present numbering, it was supposed, from five to seven thousand. General Dix then announced that the proceedings would be opened with prayer, and Rev. J. N. McDonald offered prayer, in which thanks were rendered to God for the blessings which the nation enjoyed particularly in having been preserved in the late troubles, and also for the assemblage of this Convention to consult for the public good. He prayed that the members might take action as brothers and as friends, might lay aside all selfish and unworthy personal and sectional considerations, so that the Union of the States may be fully restored and rendered perpetual. (A loud "Amen" from the delegates.) He prayed also that God might manifest His special favor on the President of the United States, and make him a great and lasting blessing to the country. (Another loud "Amen.") He next prayed for the maintenance of the Union inviolate under the Constitution established by our fathers.

The Hon. A. W. Randall, Postmaster-General, in calling the Convention to order, announced that the delegates from Massachusetts and South Carolina would come in to the Convention arm-in-arm. This announcement caused a perfect furore of rejoicing and cheering. I never saw a body of men so perfectly abandoned to tumultuous and wild expressions of joy. Amidst all this, Gov. Orr, of South Carolina, and General Couch, of Massachusetts, walked forward to the stand, the remainder of the delegation following arm-in-arm. This scene was quite dramatic, and produced a great effect. When the delegation had taken their seats, and the cheering had subsided,

Mr. John Hogan, of Missouri, proposed three cheers to thirty-six States, which were given with great energy. Cheers were, in succession, given for Andrew Johnson, for the Union, and other national things and sentiments. All these proceedings were interspersed with some very fine music by the large band engaged for the occasion, which played Dixie, among other national airs.

Mr. Randall then proposed the Hon. John A. Dix as temporary chairman of the Convention, which was unanimously agreed to.

Mr. Dix, being conducted to the stand, made a very appropriate and national speech, which all, both in the North and South, may heartily adopt and sustain. [See Wednesday's Sentinel.]

At the conclusion of the speech, which was cheered tremendously almost at every sentence, several secretaries were appointed.

Resolutions for the appointment of committees on credentials and upon the permanent organization were adopted.

General Steedman, of Ohio, who has, with Mr. Fullerton, made such a faithful and fair investigation of the condition of the negroes in the South, and of the administration of the affairs of the Freedmen's Bureau, is not only a prominent member of the Convention, but is evidently one of its most zealous and efficient. He moved the resolution on credentials, and is placed at the head of the committee on the subject. That committee consists of thirteen. The Committee on Organization consists of one from each State. Colonel T. S. Flournoy was appointed on it from Virginia.

The call under which the Convention assembled was read by Mr. Perrine, from New York, principal secretary.

On motion of Mr. Doolittle it was resolved that all resolutions and propositions relating to the organization of the Convention, and to claims of persons to seats in it, shall be referred to the Committee on organization. This resolution is designed to prevent controversy and discord. I hope, however, that it will turn out to have been unnecessary. I learn that Mr. Vallandigham will follow the admirable conduct of Mr. Fernando Wood. This will do him more credit and strengthen him more than any other course possibly could. It will prevent, I believe, any disturbance whatever touching claims to seats, and permit the Convention to proceed with its deliberations quietly and harmoniously. I do not think those gentlemen ought to be excluded. They and all others who are heartily in favor of restoring the States to equality and re-establishing the Constitution throughout the land ought to be admitted.—But then a large portion of the Convention are firmly opposed to admitting them; and I am glad that they have too much patriotism to try an issue which would produce discord and do some harm in the North.

After some other unimportant business, the Convention adjourned until to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

The most perfect order prevailed, and not the remotest sign occurred of any purpose to interrupt the Convention.

A strong police force was in attendance, but they had no great deal to do.

There are a great many very distinguished gentlemen in the Convention, both civilians and military men. Thus far the most perfect harmony prevails. Not a word has been heard of the test oath. It sleeps as silently as though it had been buried for four thousand years in the Egyptian tombs.

There is marked consideration for the position and feelings of the South, and I cannot believe, as at present advised, that her representatives will be subjected even to embarrassment, much less mortification.

One subject of some interest is the establishment of a party name for this great movement for the salvation of the country. The trouble will be to induce all parties to acquiesce and surrender old names and old party lines from time to time, in order that no old prejudices may be brought in to diminish the strength of the great party of the Union and the Constitution. I cannot but believe there is patriotism enough amongst those rallying to the cause to make this voluntary surrender of their old party names as an act of ready and willing acquiescence. Certainly there is not a single good reason against it, and very many in favor of it. The Democrats, many fear, will be obstinate on this point. I cannot believe it. They and all others will come under the general name to drive out the destructives from power and save the Republic.

As to when the Convention will adjourn, I cannot say; but probably on Thursday. Everybody favoring its objects is in the finest spirits, anticipating the most glorious results from its deliberations and from the great struggle that is to follow. It may well be compared to the great Convention of which George Washington was President, held here to form a more perfect Union, and who gave the country that Constitution which Radicalism is endeavoring to tear to pieces and scatter to the winds. That Convention gave this important chart of our liberties to the nation; the present Convention is endeavoring to save it from destruction and restore to the people and the States the liberties it guarantees. The Convention of George Washington gave us the Ark of the Covenant between the States and the Federal Union. It has been desecrated and torn from its sacred place by the Radicals, and now this Convention is bringing it back with cheers and rejoicing which to-day shook the vault of Heaven!

South Carolina and Massachusetts Arm-in-Arm---The Great Incident of the Day.

PHILADELPHIA, August 14.

The enthusiasm in the Convention to-day which greeted the Massachusetts and South Carolina delegations, headed by Gov. Orr and Maj. Gen. Couch, as they walked arm-in arm down the main aisle of the Wigwam, knew no bounds. It was one of the most exciting and inspiriting demonstrations ever witnessed in any popular assemblage. Many were affected to tears. The suggestion of this grand incident was made by Hon. Richard L. Spofford, one of the Massachusetts delegates, just as the two delegations were entering the Wigwam. As Massachusetts and South Carolina walked arm-in-arm, General Dick Taylor mounted a seat and proposed three cheers for the Union, which were given with a will that fairly lifted the Wigwam roof.

Sentiment of the Southern Delegates,---Radical Attempt to Create a Riot.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.

The speech of Governor Orr last evening at the Democratic ratification meeting struck the key note for the alternates of the Southern members to day. It was so sensible, so dignified, so appropriate, that it is the theme of universal comment. Besides, it most effectually drew the fire of the Radicals, who have been prowling about the city with ears extended in the hope of hearing something out of which they could make capital.

Forney has done his best to get up a riot.—His paper is full of incendiary and rebellious articles, but he has been unable thus far to produce even a dog fight.

Feeling in Washington.

WASHINGTON, August 14,—The proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention to-day have, by the harmony and conciliatory spirit displayed, afforded much gratification to the President and the friends of his policy of one country, one flag, one Union of equal States, and inspired them with additional confidence in the success of this constitutional movement. They are jubilant to-night, and have faith in the complete success of the Convention, and of the restoration policy, which it is assembled to sustain and carry forward to final triumph.

General Dix's Speech.

To say of the admirable speech of General Dix, at the opening of the great Convention, that it matched the occasion, is the highest praise; and this praise it deserves. In length, in the selection of topics, in tone, temper, and language, we can think of no word which so truly characterizes it as the word fit. It was not a mere speech of form, a mere exhibition of decorum on the part of a presiding officer who did not wish to seem blunt or unceremonious in taking his seat, as is the case with most efforts of this kind. On the contrary, it was persuasive, convincing; it sought to make a definite impression, and succeeded in making it. Logical without the dryness of argumentative forms, it rendered the absurdity of with-holding representation from the recovered States so apparent by mere force of luminous statement, as to make any supplementary argument seem superfluous. Statesmanlike views are presented with a skill and simplicity which adapts them to popular apprehension, and which grounds new hope on the fact that the truth on which our political system rests can be made so intelligible.—N. Y. World.

PULPIT ILLUSTRATIONS.—We abominate political preaching or the introduction of politics in the pulpit. "Christ and Him crucified," and all cognate subjects, are alone proper for that sacred place. Yet a gospel minister may illustrate, very fitly, a Christian doctrine by a historical or even a political allusion. For instance, a minister of the gospel, preaching some days ago from the text, "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find," &c., in impressing upon his hearers the manner and intensity with which the sinner should seek pardon, illustrated it by alluding to the industry, speciality and intensity with which Sherman's bummers sought treasure. Said he: "If the sinners of this congregation were to seek pardon, with the same intensity and determination to find it that Sherman's bummers sought for treasure, leaving no stone unturned, puncturing with their rods and spears every foot of ground supposed to contain it, searching every nook and corner with unwearied diligence, even to the finding of a darning needle, how soon would they find it?" It was an illustration to the point. The people of that neighborhood had felt the operation keenly, and saw the point at once, as their countenances indicated

We observe that a very pious cotemporary is horrified at such political allusions in the pulpit Political, indeed! It was eminently historical and apposite. No wonder that such presses are chagrined and horrified, when there is even a historical allusion made to their pets and supporters, when the same presses can utter almost daily criminations against their own people, to whom they are indebted for all they possess and enjoy.

As other parties are making Cotton Gins without the improvements which have given these Machines their superiority and unexampled success, and are offering them to the public with nearly the same representations this notice is to prevent the imposition and disappointments of purchasers who desire the well established and approved Machines manufactured only by us.

THE UNIVERSAL COTTON GIN AND CONDENSER of Horace L. Emery's Patent, may be readily distinguished by their having the PICKER ROLL SUPPORTER suspended midway in the hopper over the saws, for supporting and moving the COTTON ROLL and preventing all possibility of choking or bridging of Cotton in the hopper from any cause. Also their air supply openings to an air chamber over the Brush Cylinder, and the words "HORACE L. EMERY'S PATENT" and Albany Agricultural Works, in raised and stenciled letters upon different parts of the Machine.

PENDER COUNCIL, No. 3., FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.—We learn that a Council, with the above title, was formed in this city last night. The Council was organized by Maj. D. S. Hill, of Louisburg, an officer of Pettigrew Council, No. 1., at Louisburg. The following officers were elected for Pender Council: Ex-President, Josiah Jones; President, R. W. Best; Associate President, Jas. H. Moore; Secretary, J. C. L. Harris; Financial Secretary, Jesse Jones; Treasure, Wm. H. Cuninggim; Conductor, John Armstrong; Assistant Conductor, J. V. Wilson; Inside Sentinel, A. Hardie; Outside Sentinel, W. H. Spencer; Chaplain, Rev. H. T. Hudson.—There is certainly room for the energetic labors of this Association, and we wish it much success.

THE VOTE.—We have now official returns from 36 Counties, in which the vote stands:

For Rejection	14,646
" Ratification	12,159
Majority for Rejection	2,487

We shall hereafter only give official returns. When the full vote is received, and the result ascertained, we shall give the vote of the entire State by Counties.

LITERARY BOARD.—Governor Worth has summoned the Board of Literature to meet in this City, on Thursday, the 23rd. inst.

DURHAM TOBACCO.—We are indebted to R. F. Morriss & Son, Durham's, for a large package of their splendid Spanish flavored Smoking Tobacco, which we do not hesitate to commend to the public as the most superior article we have ever used. A few puffs will smoothe "the wrinkled brow of care" at all hours. Messrs. Morriss & Son are very extensively engaged in the manufacture and will fill orders to any amount.

THE RALEIGH EXCHANGE HOTEL has been re-opened by Mr. J. M. Blair, and is said by travelers to be in all respects a model institution. Mr. B. is an accomplished hotelist, and with his fifty-six rooms refitted and regarnished, and a table groaning with luxuries of the season, makes himself deservedly popular. The South Carolinian will always be found in his reading room.—Columbia South Carolinian.

WE REGRET to learn that the venerable mother of Gov. Worth is lying at the point of death at her residence in Guilford. Gov. Worth left on the train this afternoon, to be with her in her last moments.

NORTH CAROLINA IN THE CONVENTION.—Hon. Nathaniel Boyden was chairman of the North Carolina delegation in the Philadelphia Convention. Hon. Wm. A. Graham was one of the Committee on Resolutions; Hon. Jno. A. Gilmer one of the vice Presidents; and W. A. Wright, Esq., one of the Committee on organization.

CAPT. TEAL'S SUCCESSOR.—A. Dilworth, Esq., of this place, has been appointed Agent of the Bureau in Greensboro, vice Capt. Teal, who recently resigned. Mr. Dilworth is well known in this community, and will no doubt make an acceptable officer.—Greensboro' Patriot.

We believe Mr. Dilworth is an old resident of Greensboro', if not a native. This is a movement in the right direction. A citizen, reared up among the blacks and the whites of the South, is the right kind of man, if he has other requisites, to perform the duty of looking after the interests of the colored population.

ROW IN WILSON.—The Newbern Times learns that quite a disturbance occurred in the town of Wilson last week. From the account, it appears that an affray took place between some whites and negroes, in which one or two of the latter were severely wounded.

ARRIVALS AT THE YARBOROUGH HOUSE, AUGUST 15TH., 1866.—L. C. Jones, Fayetteville, N. C., C. B. Mallett, Fayetteville, N. C., C. P. Mallett, Jr., Fayetteville, N. C., Jno. Endy, Greensboro, N. C., J. F. Wright, Tarboro, N. C., Samuel Jordan, Absville, N. C., Dr. T. H. Scott, Nash Co., N. C., Miss Laura Scott, Nash Co., N. C., Miss Pattie Freeman, Nash Co. N. C., R. R. Bridgers, N. C., S. S. Clayton, Baltimore, Md., Gen. Phil. Hawkins, N. C., S. Resenburg, Petersburg, Va.

AUGUST 16.—Mrs. Dr. Moore, child and servant, Miss Mary Sellers, Miss Sarah Sellers, B. A. Sellers, Company Shops, N. C; J. B. Batchelor, Warrenton; Capt. Jas. Gregory, Petersburg, Va; L. G. Gundy, Boydton, Va; S. R. Birdsay and Lady, Fayetteville, N. C.

UNSTAMPED INSTRUMENTS.—The following in the "Amended Act to provide Internal Revenue," &c., in regard to unstamped instruments, has been handed us for publication, and will be of general interest to our readers. The extract is a "true copy" from the recent law:

"In all cases where the party has not affixed the stamp required by law upon any instrument made, signed, or issued, at a time when and at a place where no collection district was established, it shall be lawful for him or them, or any party having an interest therein, to affix the proper stamp thereto, or if the original be lost, to a copy thereof; and the instrument or copy to which the proper stamp has been thus affixed prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and the record thereof, shall be as valid to all intents and purposes as if stamped by the collector in manner hereinbefore provided. But no right acquired in good faith before the stamping of such instrument or copy thereof, and the recording thereof, as herein provided, if such record be required by law, shall in any manner be affected by such stamping as aforesaid."

SEABOARD AND ROANOKE R. R.—We are pleased to learn, as we do from the Norfolk Day Book, that this road is doing a very encouraging business. The company is under very efficient management and is fairly on the road to prosperity.

THE SIAMESE TWINS passed through Lynchburg the other day bound northward; whereon newspaper men grow funny. One says that being practical unionists it is supposed they were making their way to the Philadelphia Convention. Another states they came by the same train. And another, that they seemed as much attached to each other as ever.

THE ACCOUNT of the New Orleans riot has a startling and melancholy interest to those who look beneath the surface. Just as the trembling of the earth or the eruption of flames tells of the interior fires deep buried from eternity in the bosom of the globe, so these accesses of rage, thirsting for blood, show how strangely operative are the oppositions of races. In vain for fanatics has history shed its philosophic light on the past. In vain has the antagonism of races produced its startling effects through all the tide of times. To no purpose did St. Domingo run red with blood, so cruelly shed, because of the repulsion of colors. So fanatics scorn to square their theories to human nature—they try to bend human nature to their theories. They make no allowance for time or circumstance; their car of progress must advance, though smeared at every revolution of its wheels with the blood of human sacrifice. Pursuing their darling dream of negro equality at all hazards, they have opened the doors to violence at New Orleans, and caused the blood of the ignorant instruments of their passions to flow.

Whilst we profoundly regret the outburst of fanatic rage, and would earnestly counsel all persons at the South, and elsewhere in our country, to abstain from force and religiously respect the laws, we cannot but condemn in the strongest terms the unlawful and reckless course of the Radical conspirators in invoking the agency of a dead convocation to establish their policy. They undertake a fraud, under circumstances of the most aggravated character, with the most violent threats, to subvert the institutions of the State and erect a party despotism resting on negro suffrage. The melancholy consequences of their acts might have been foreseen.

The question of the difference of races at the South requires to be handled with the most exquisite delicacy. If it is handled roughly the saddest results of past history may be looked for as natural consequence.

An effort is made in certain quarters to throw blame upon the President. The President's despatch requires the "civil authorities" to be sustained. The President could do nothing else. It is his duty to sustain the law and the existing civil institutions of the country. The attack of the mob on a Convention was not the work of the "civil authorities," but done in spite of them. The Convention, representing the civil power, protected the Convention, and those who were killed were killed by the mob in spite of the police.—National Intelligencer.

GENERALLY.—A correspondent of the Louisville Courier, writing from Toronto, Canada, says:

"General Early arrived here a few days since, from Halifax which route he had come from Cuba and Mexico. He looks as well as when I saw him contemplating the dome of the Capitol from Frank Blair's lawn in July, 1864, notwithstanding his extensive travels by horseback, from Lynchburg to Galveston, and thence, by vessel, to Mexico and here, as stated. It will be gratifying to those who take an interest in the truth of history to know that General Early has written a narrative of his operations during the last year of the war, including his services with Gen. Lee's army from the Rapidan to the James, and campaign into Maryland and in the Shenandoah valley against Sheridan. His manuscript is nearly ready for the press, and will make, exclusive of maps, an octavo pamphlet of about three hundred pages. Gen. Early, declining to take it a source of profit, will publish it at his own expense, as a contribution to history. It will create a sensation, and will be very readable."

The Great Convention,---Reading of the Address.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 17, M.

Many of the delegates of the Convention left last evening, and the balance will leave to-day.

The Proceedings throughout were most harmonious. There was not a single event to mar the good feeling.

The address (not the resolutions) was written by Mr. Raymond. It is merely the resolutions elaborated. During its reading, for a time the most breathless silence prevailed. The President requested delegates and spectators to manifest no sign of approval or to make other demonstrations until the reading was completed. This secured quiet until the reader arrived at the following paragraph: "And the ten millions of Americans, who live in the South, would be unworthy citizens of a free commonwealth, degenerate sons of our heroic ancestors, unfit ever to become guardians of the rights and principles bequeathed to us by the fathers and founders of the Republic, if they could accept, with uncomplaining submission, the humiliation thus sought to be imposed upon them."—The entire audience here broke forth in an unrestrained burst of applause which lasted several minutes. At the conclusion of this enthusiasm, a demand was made that the passage be read again, which was assented to, and again the applause broke forth with redoubled effect.

The Press clerk gave a splendid banquet to members of the Press last night, at which Radicals and Southerners fraternize and high hilarity prevailed.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
113 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative value, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

BUCKEYE SULKY PLOW,

Being impressed with the necessity, and importance of economy in farming, I am determined to have it in my power to furnish to farmers at manufacturers prices the BUCKEYE COTTON & CORN CULTIVATOR OR SULKEY PLOW.

It is certainly the greatest improvement of the age in agricultural implements.

It will, with two horses and one hand, cultivate as much land, and do it as well, as two horses and four hands in the usual way; and any one lady or gentleman can either walk or ride at pleasure; while feeble ladies old or decripped men, who cannot follow the common plow to execute the work as well as the most robust.

It is manufactured by R. Sterling & Co., Baltimore, at $70, and is the cheapest plow in use, because of the great saving in hands, teams and provisions. For further information upon the subject, address
